About Me

I'm a PHP / JavaScript full-stack web developer transitioning to programming after 7+ years experience as an Advertising Art Director / Designer. What excites me about programming is the potential to make people's lives easier and better through technology, and provide them with value they never expected. Currently working on a multiple crypto-to-fiat currency converter to gain better understanding of available crypto APIs.

PROJECTS:

OldLister	Reddit.dev	Globetrotter.pro
Using vanilla PHP, MySQL, HTML and custom CSS, we created an online community/classifieds website that allows account holders to buy and sell goods, while allowing anyone to browse what's for sale.	Using a Laravel framework, we built an analogue to the famous 'front page of the internet' that uses MySQL to store user info, votes and content, and PHP to allow voting, ranking, and posting.	A mobile-responsive app for travel budgeting. Built with Laravel, we use PHP to call an API with cost data from 30,00 locations. User budgets are built with a jQuery and JavaScript 'wizard' and stored in a MySQL database, which is managed with Laravel.
